

DOES OUR POLICE LEADERSHIP FAIL CAESAR'S STANDARD?

A Conceptual illustration of Caesar's 'Pompeia Test' vs. Modern Surveillance and the MADD Mandate

THE POMPEIA TEST: A Citizen's Guide to Police Accountability

An Action Supplement to The Illiberal Turn by Alok Mukherjee

"Enforcers of law and justice should not only be free from partiality, but even from the suspicion of it."

THE CRISIS: THE ILLIBERAL TURN

Our police leadership is increasingly bypassing public negotiation in favor of Executive Autonomy. By aligning with partisan advocacy groups, accepting private "junkets," and deploying militarized units at peaceful protests, the "Operational Independence" of our police has been corrupted into an "Executive Shield."

THE CITIZEN'S ACCOUNTABILITY CHECKLIST

Use these points to question your local Police Services Board or Chief of Police.

1. End the "Junket" Culture

- The Question: "Will the Board implement a mandatory disclosure policy for all third-party funded international travel by police leadership?"

- The Goal: To ensure that "educational" trips to conflict zones do not result in the importation of biased policing methods or partisan ideologies.

2. Halt the "MADD" Mandate

- The Question: "Does the newly announced 'Anti-Terrorism Unit' utilize the Monitor, Activate, Disrupt, and Deploy philosophy proposed by partisan advocacy groups?"
- The Goal: To prevent the criminalization of legitimate political dissent and the stigmatization of vulnerable communities.

3. De-Militarize the Public Square

- The Question: "Under what specific, Charter-compliant criteria are officers authorized to deploy rifles at peaceful political assemblies?"
- The Goal: To reject the "Illiberal Turn" where the public is viewed as a domestic security threat rather than as citizens exercising their rights.

4. Protect Operational Neutrality

- The Question: "How does the Board ensure that the adoption of controversial definitions of 'hate' does not infringe upon the right to criticize the political actions of a foreign state?"
- The Goal: To restore the police as a neutral protector of all, not an instrument for a socio-economic elite.

OUR DEMAND

We do not accept a policing model that is autonomous from the governed. We demand a return to transparency, neutrality, and the strict observance of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.
